Rose Royce are known for both great funk hits as well as memorable ballads. They were produced by the famous Motown song writer Norman Whitfield.

Successful Funk bands fronted by female singers have been rare and apart from Rose Royce the only other one has been Rufus (featuring Chaka Khan).

Their first Dance Funk hit was "Car Wash" (USA#1, UK#9 1976, #6 AUS) from the film soundtrack of the same name. They followed with the spunky seventies ballad "I Wanna Get Next To You" (USA#10, UK#14, #24AUS).

The groups next album "In Full Bloom" featured the hits "Do Your Dance" (USA#39, UK#30 1977) and "Wishing On A Star" (UK#3, 1978).

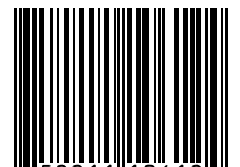

The classic "Love Don't Live Here Anymore" (USA#32, UK#9, 1979, AUS#4) came from their third album "Strike Again." They continued to have hits in the UK with "Is It Love You're After" (UK#13, 1979) and "Magic Touch" (UK#43, 1984).
